Before you start

Have these things ready

- The child's eligibility code (11 digits)
- The parent or carer's surname and National Insurance number

You must have parental consent to use this data for the purposes of an eligibility check. If they completed and signed the EYFE Parent Declaration form, they will have given consent.

Things to note

- You must verify the child is age-eligible to access the Working Families entitlements before offering an EYFE place to a child in addition to checking their eligibility code. Consult clause 1.1 of the EYFE Provider Declaration for guidance on age-eligibility. Note that the checker may still verify the eligibility code is valid despite the child not being age-eligible to access EYFE. Claims will be declined if this is the case.
- Providers must ensure that eligibility codes are valid before offering a place. You will only be able to claim Working Families EYFE for this child within your next Actuals submission if the Start Date is prior to the beginning of the applicable term and the Grace Period End Date is at the earliest at the end of the applicable term – check this carefully when prompted in step 8.
- The data you input for the check is not retained
- The checker is a standalone feature on the portal and is not linked to your claims
- Eligibility codes typically begin with “50”, but there are exceptions, such as “40” codes which are issued in certain circumstances, and other temporary code formats issued by HMRC.

It is recommended you use an up to date internet browser. If you experience technical difficulties, try updating or use an alternative browser, such as Google Chrome, Microsoft Edge, Mozilla Firefox etc.

Results of a check

8. You are given either a green or red banner with the results of the check

Green banner (Code is found)

A green banner and tick indicates that the code has been found only - it does not indicate that the code is valid for the upcoming term, or that you can claim extended hours for the child on your Actuals submission for the upcoming term

The following information is provided:

- Code Start date – when code first issued by HMRC, or when the parent reconfirmed eligibility
- Code End date – by which the applicant should reconfirm their eligibility with HMRC
- Grace Period End Date – when eligibility will end if the parent fails to reconfirm with HMRC

To be able to claim EYFE using a code for the child on your next Actuals submission, the code must be valid for the entirety of that term. Refer to the table below to check validity for the term in which you intend to claim.

To claim in...	code start date must be...	and grace period end date must be...
Autumn term	31 August, or earlier	31 December, or later
Spring Term	31 December, or earlier	31 March, or later
Summer term	31 March, or earlier	31 August, or later

Note that:

- If the parent applied or reconfirmed with HMRC in time, but the code start date is after the start of term, take a screenshot of the Eligibility Checker outcome (using the Print screen button on your keyboard) and email freentitlement@westsussex.gov.uk for support.
- If a parent has forgotten to reconfirm, and/or no longer meets the eligibility criteria, the child can continue to access their EYFE place up to the grace period end date.
- A child cannot start at a new provider if the code has fallen into the grace period.

Red banner (Code is not found, or not eligible)

A red banner indicates that the code has not been found, or the applicant is not eligible. You cannot claim EYFE using a code for the child on your Actuals submission for the upcoming term.

Check the details that you entered are correct and try again.

If you still receive the red banner message, the applicant:

- may have given you incorrect data – check it with them
- has applied but isn't eligible – query it with them
- was previously eligible but no longer is – query it with them
