WEST SUSSEX COUNTY COUNCIL
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 23
SELSEY: HIGH STREET – PEDESTRIAN CROSSING PLACE

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR REMOVAL

The County Council in exercise of their powers under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, propose to remove the pedestrian crossing place on High Street, Selsey south of Croft Way.

The existing pedestrian crossing facility on High Street Selsey is not well observed by pedestrians who tend to cross the road elsewhere.

The nearby signalised junction just south of Malthouse Road is due for refurbishment and an opportunity has been identified to incorporate a controlled crossing point within this junction allowing the stand alone pedestrian crossing point to be removed.

The proximity of the standalone crossing to the signalised junction means traffic is stopped twice within a short distance.

As part of the signalised junction refurbishment the junction and crossing operation would have to be linked to reduce potential for people reacting to the wrong green signal. This would cause increased delays for pedestrians waiting at the crossing point for a green man and vehicles being held at the junction whenever the standalone crossing was being used by pedestrians.

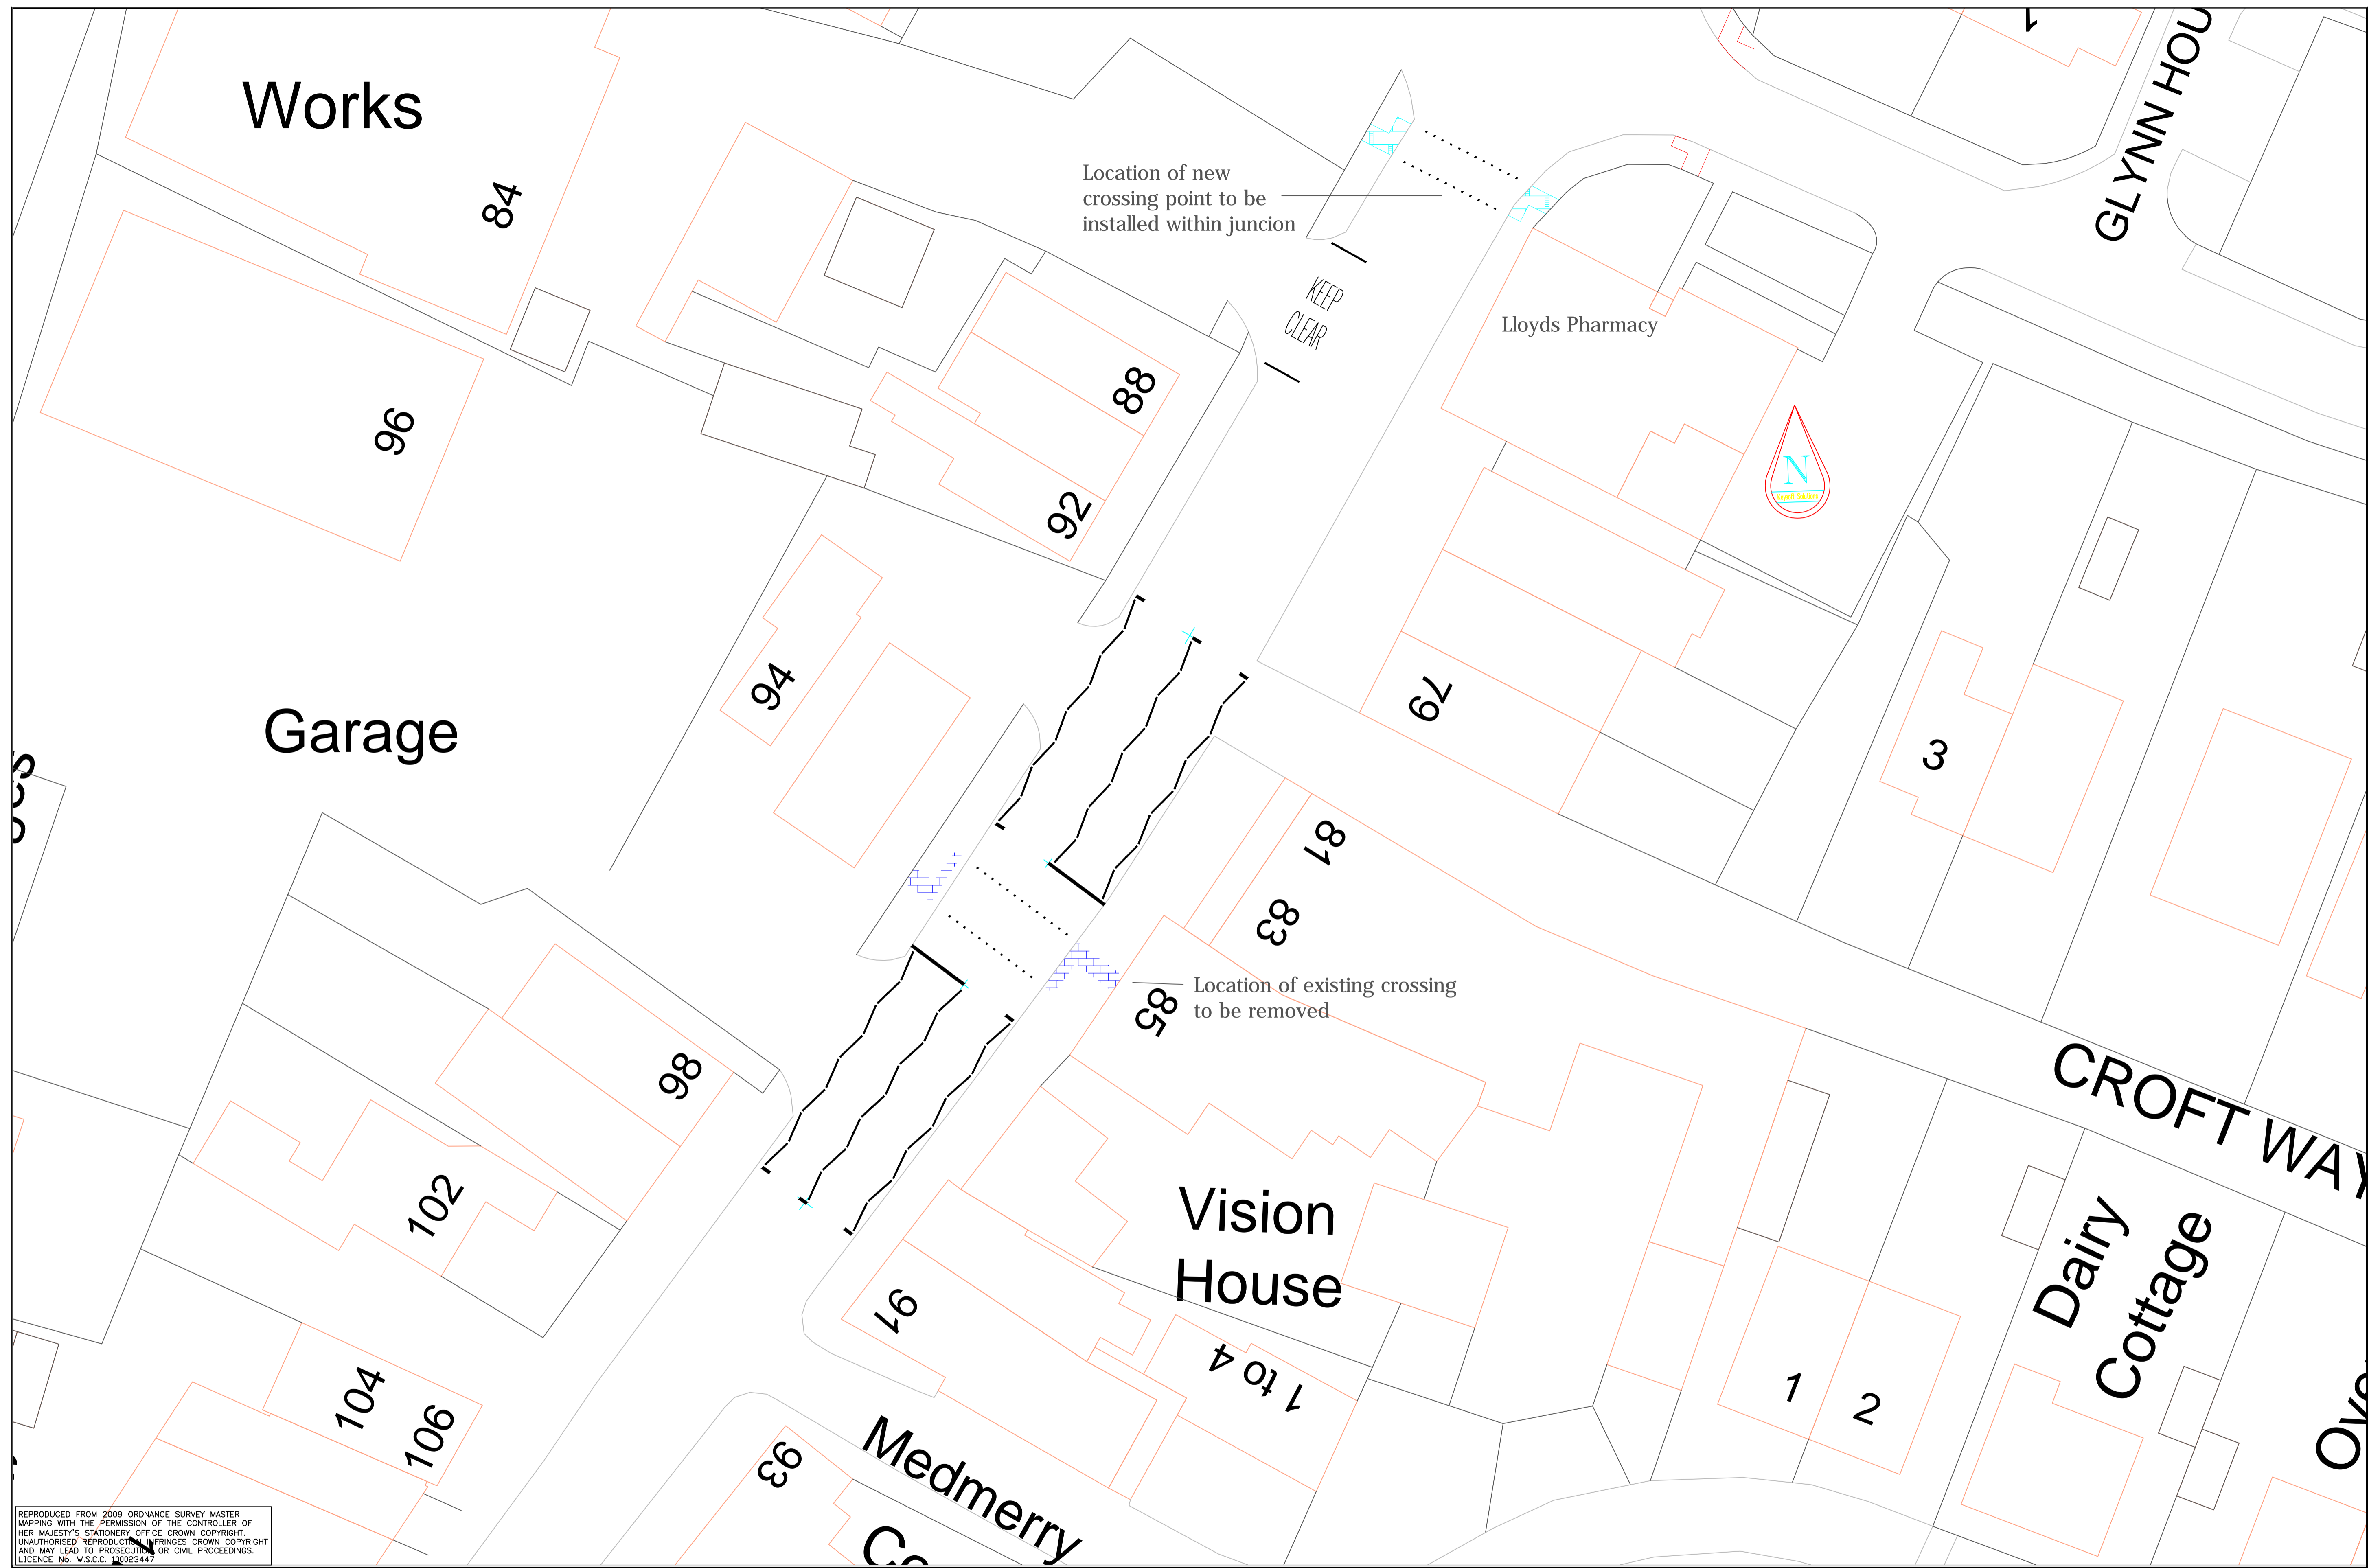

The majority of pedestrians were observed crossing High Street opposite the pharmacy. It is believed that the incorporation of the crossing point within the refurbished junction, close to the pharmacy, will give pedestrians a controlled crossing point located on a proven desire line. This renders the existing standalone crossing unnecessary.
