We provide a range of services for adults, children and their parents, employers and employees, educators and other professionals:

- Consultations
- Assessments
- Courses for Parents
- Skills Development for Adults
- Professional Training Courses to Diploma Level
- Workplace Dyslexia Training and Support
- Specialist Shop and Online Ordering
- Short Courses and CPD for Professionals
- In-Service Training for Schools
- Short Courses for Children
- Specialist Tuition
- Presentations and Webinars
Helen Arkell is a registered dyslexia charity providing learning and skills support for all ages and professional training for educators.

We pride ourselves in offering you a personalised experience with the highest quality of care and expertise.

The Helen Arkell centre was a wonderful place to train. It has changed my son’s life and has given me a new career.

I am very pleased to say that I had the interview with amendments to take into account my dyslexia and I heard last night that I got the job. It is great to get such good news. LY

All our Teaching Assistants and Special Needs Assistants were buzzing with the interesting & informative content of the course.

I have visited your shop, it’s an absolute treasure trove of helpful guides, gizmos and story books.

Dyslexia brings more gifts than glitches. If you have it, flaunt it. When you stumble, hold out a hand. Help will come. When you achieve, stand proud and then lend a hand with humility. Mark Wilkinson OBE

What is Dyslexia?

Dyslexia is a difficulty with words; it affects a person’s ability to read accurately and fluently.

Dyslexia can affect all aspects of learning from reading and writing to maths, memory, organisation and concentration.

It can range from mild to severe.

Dyslexia can affect one in ten people.
Helen Arkell is one of the premier league centres of dyslexia expertise in terms of assessment and training in the world. I have been involved with the centre both as trainer and a parent of a child with dyslexia. Quite simply it has changed our lives as it will for many other people in the future. Fintan O’Regan

Together we inspire people to believe in themselves, achieve their goals and succeed on their own terms.

www.helenarkell.org.uk
01252 792400

Registered Charity No 1064646